No, generally I liked my word choice better. But I thought you had a good point about activists' conduct to get what they want, which works for them but would be dysfunctional in our setting, so I added that.

Subject: Reflections on current board and shareholder issues

Richard, David and I produced these reflections as a way of clarifying our own thinking about the recent history and current state of the Purdue/Mundipharma companies, and the road ahead as mapped out by the board. Dr. Raymond has reviewed it and is in agreement.
